

J Royal's Compounds of Viton™

DUPONT VITON® IS NOW CHEMOURS™ VITON™

Chemours™ Viton™ is a newly rebranded identity for a product portfolio previously associated with DuPont. It's the same superior product offering you've relied upon for decades from J Royal, however, its new corporate identity is now The Chemours Company, which spun off from DuPont on July 1, 2015 as an independent, publicly traded corporation (NYSE: CC). Chemours features the same quality standards, just a new branded identity.

Originally, DuPont created Chemours to differentiate its performance chemicals group, separating Chemours' products from the DuPont branded portfolio. Now, as a new, independent corporation, it has the autonomy and specialization to put greater focus, resources and innovation into this unique product portfolio, including Viton™.

MORE LEADERSHIP THROUGH J ROYAL

Chemours is a global company in the performance chemicals segment, including leadership positions in Titanium Technologies, Fluoroproducts and Chemical Solutions. With 8,000 employees in over 130 countries, your access to this powerful resource is as simple as calling J Royal. As always, count on J Royal for complete customer satisfaction and expert consultation for Chemours' products.

VITON™ – A SUPERIOR SEALING SOLUTION

Viton™ is an elastomer in the fluoroelastomer category. It features an operating temperature range in O-Ring applications of approximately -15° to +400° F in medium hardness (70 durometer Shore A) compounds. It is often used in applications requiring broad chemical compatibility coupled with high service temperatures.
